Moorhead Senior High School

2300 - 4th Avenue South
Moorhead, Minnesota 56560

(218) 236-6400

1984 Marks the 100th Graduating Class of Moorhead High School

Organized in the fall of 1872, the first school in Moorhead was not a public but a subscription school. On April 15, 1873, the Moorhead Public School District was organized. A year later, in 1874, the first schoolhouse was constructed on the southwest corner of Second Avenue and Sixth Street South. Six years later the building was sold to the Swedish Lutheran Church.

A new building was constructed in 1880 at the site of the present Townsite Centre - 810 Fourth Avenue South. Although this new building was intended as a high school, it was first used for elementary grades. It was named the Sharp School to honor James Sharp, a Moorhead resident and school board member, for his long and continued service to the schools of Moorhead. In 1892 an addition to the high school was constructed and in 1894 the school was completely rebuilt and enlarged. Sharp High School served Moorhead's students until 1921 when the building was torn down and a new Moorhead High School was constructed on the same site. This building served as Moorhead's high school for forty-six years until the present high school opened at 2300 Fourth Avenue South on September 5, 1967.

1983 marked 100 years of operation for Moorhead High School. The first graduate of Moorhead High School was Mathias Forsberg in 1883. Because there were no graduates in 1885 or 1894 the class of 1985 is the one-hundredth graduating class of Moorhead High School.

Doyle attends state meet

With a new coach and an abundance of new talent the Spud Cross Country team started the season with a full head of steam. Team captains, seniors Dan Case and Greg Ballard, held hopes for a return to the winning tradition of past years. And, although the determination was there, inexperience robbed the team of the winning season it worked so hard to achieve.

Unquestionably this was the year of the sophomore, with over half the team being composed of 10th graders. Leading the varsity teams were Craig Grundstrom and Heather Doyle, both sophomores. Heather proved to be an explosive runner, taking first in all but the Spuds name to the state meet this year. Miss Doyle became the second runner in Spuds history to take first place in the state meet.

Now with the experience that they needed the only thing that can be said is; Watch out for the Spuds next year.

Spuds fall one short

The football team, for the second year in a row, fell one game short of the dome. The Spuds, however, proved many people wrong by being able to play in the new playoff system. The team's small size and speed contributed to their competitive edge.

In the new system Moorhead had to win five games to advance to the championship game. Ending the regular season with a record of six and three, Kostich and his boys advanced to the playoffs. Winning the first game against Grand Rapids, the Spuds then found themselves pitted against a tough Bemidji team. Coming out strong, Moorhead held the advantage and went on to win. Next in line was Brainerd. A victory there pushed Moorhead into the semi-finals against Burnsville. It was against this team in Parade Stadium that the Spuds finally met defeat.

Many of the accomplishments this season were made possible by head coach Dan Kostich and his assistants Tom Eldred and Bill Quenette. The team was led by captains Terry Fergen, Paul Hultman, and Jon Kappes. Rob Neilsen and Jon Kappes were named MVP's.

Netters gain third at State

Once again Moorhead's Volleyball team proved to be one of the best in the state. Undefeated at home, the girls finished the season with a record of 19 and 8. Advancing into the playoffs, Moorhead made an impressive showing until brought short of the championship game by a tough Apple Valley team in the second round of the State tournaments.

As a whole most of the members of the team felt that it had been a fun season. A few hard loses tested the teams moral strength, but the teams motto "Friends Forever" held the team in a strong bond.

At the end of the season the third place team recognized several members with the following awards. Best defense, Pam Steta; most dedicated, Jacque Sapa; most valuable, Julie Wahl; most improved, Tracie Wilson.

Soccer team undefeated

The Spud soccer team had an exceptional year. With an undefeated record, the Spuds went on to capture the League Championship. Under the first year coach, Scott Bergen the Spuds outscored their opponents 31-5. Their only tie went to Eden Prairie.

The team as a whole played well together and most felt that this year has been the best season of the newly founded soccer team. Junior Mark Bergen stated that once they got started there was no stopping them. Senior Dan Lenerts felt that the defense was the strongest part of the team.

Girls Tennis

Young team works hard

This fall, coach Lynda Day brought new hope to the girls tennis team. Much of the team were looking ahead towards a good season. Coach Day was assisted by Mary Zorich.

This year the team had one senior, Chris Layton. She, along with junior Marla Johnson, lead the team as Co-captains. Out of eighteen girls, seven were juniors.

Much improvement was noted this year, and with a young team many look forward to next year.

Height lacking spirit not

This year the MHS boy's basketball team went through an up and down season. After 3 consecutive wins the bottom fell out with 5 straight losses.

Without the towering players of the past the Spuds had to rely on a strong defense and quick offense.

The Spuds were led by Seniors Terry Fergen, Andy Neilson, Joe Bolger, Pete Davies, Tom Odegard, and Chad Corneliussen.

The Spuds ended the season with a record of 10 wins and 11 losses.

Abrupt end against Detroit Lakes

A disappointing loss to Detroit Lakes in sub region play brought the Spud girl's basketball season to an end. It had been a very even year up to this point with a record of ten wins to ten losses. As with each year the season was not without its highlights. A big win over sixth seeded Bemidji was a boost for the Spuds. Throughout the season many goals were surpassed, with pizza on the coach a common happening.

juniors, and two sophomores racked up an impressive set of statistics. Five school records were broken including: 476 field goals made, 249 free throw, free throw percentage of 61%, 1201 total points, and 379 fouls.

Overall most felt that it had been a worthwhile and fun year. Coaches for this years varsity team were Bill Quenette and Mick Holm.

Team checked short of goal

Once again Moorhead held hopes for a winning season in hockey. A strong team of veteran skaters gave the Spuds a good base with which to build on. Returning goalie, senior Chris Miller, after an excellent junior season looked forward to an outstanding year.

Luck was not with the Spuds for what held promise yielded a rather mediocre record. Miller suffered a chain of knee injuries, but junior Shawn Sarbacher proved to be effective in the goal. After a good start against Fargo South the season resembled a roller coaster- up and down. The year came to an end with a disappointing loss in a tough game against Crookston.

Injuries hold short

The Spuds gymnastics team has suffered great setbacks due to injuries this season. Under the direction of first-year coach Marti Coonradt the girls have tried hard, but the results have been disappointing. Early in the season the best performance came against the Frazee team where we were defeated by a small margin of eleven points.

Leading the Spuds this year are senior co-captains Tracy Hegna and Teresa Lackman. A host of young talent has kept the ailing team on its feet. Junior, Susie Pierce and sophomore, Heather Doyle have kept the group in the running with several outstanding performances.

The girls lost several key members of the squad to various reasons. Last years strong performers Ann McKenna and Kathy Grundstrom both graduated. The team also lost Kristi Miller and Julie Habiger to the FM Acro Team.

Small team, big results

This year the Spud Swim team was a little shorthanded. Though lacking in quantity, they were definitely not short on talent. Leading the Spuds to regions this year was team captain Peter Kinsella. This season he broke Paul Larsen's 50 freestyle record.

All team members had an abundance of dedication, while hard work was the rule instead of the exception. Chris Pierce, one of the main entries in the breast stroke at regions, proved to be one of the more sane swimmers when compared to senior, Bruce Chenoweth. Before each race, Chenoweth would go outside and roll in the snow. Only one diver, Shane Bitzer, qualified for regions this year.

Although the rest of the team, Chad Hagen, Gary Grundstrom and Bryan Kinsella, didn't qualify for regions, they gave it their best effort. Five out of the nine team members qualified for regions this year. Even though they didn't win any meets they're still a great group of swimmers.

Team finishes strong

The girls swim team completed a super season of winning meets while setting new records. Although a string of 45 dual-meet victories was snapped, the girls finished with an excellent record of 11 wins and 2 losses. Under coaches Al Petry and Jenny Holm the team finished third in the section, with six girls qualifying for state. Sophomore Julie Buckley set MHS school and pool records in the 50-yard freestyle, and a sectional record in the 50. The 100-yard freestyle relay team of Julie Buckley, Lynn Anderson, Sara Ulrich, and Rea Sandvig placed second at sectionals. Co-captain Tracy Hegna captured third in sectional diving, and Kristi Miller placed fifth.

An up and down season

Plagued by injuries throughout the season, the Spud wrestlers had their ups and downs. The squad this year was headed by nine seniors, with Dave Benedict, Rod Shock, and Tom Sullivan leading the pack as tri-captains. Moorhead's competition for the year consisted of highly ranked Minnesota and North Dakota teams.

As the year wound down the Spuds headed for the individual team tournaments. A second place finish earned the team a chance at the regional title while sending Dave Benedict and Pat Herding to the state tournament.

Commitment and work

Cheerleading is a commitment to one's school and to the athletes for whom you cheer. You are devoting your time and talent in the hopes that the team for which you cheer will benefit from your effort.

Throughout the year if you happened to visit the commons after school you might find it crawling with girls practicing cheers. Each Monday and Wednesday up to six groups of cheerleaders would gather to practice. Cheers would be reviewed, pep posters had to be made, and numerous special projects for the athletes would be accomplished.

The coaching staff consisting of Cathy Eldred, Betsy Little, and Becky Knutson worked with all the groups to create cheers and routines. As in all team activities problems arose, but as a whole the good times outshined the bad.

As if by magic A yearbook

Once again frantic struggles characterized the time spent within the confines of the Cho-Kio room. An early deadline had to be established to have the books returned before the end of the school year. Throughout the year the staff was plagued by personnel shortages. On an average two to three people could be found each evening surrounded by mountains of photos and assorted garbage.

News is more than writing

Energetic and enthusiastic are two words that describe the 1984-85 MHS Journalism class. Under adviser Vi Redlin, sixteen eager juniors and seniors work to produce the MHS Spud newspaper.

A total of six issues were produced during the 1984-1985 school year.

Although many people think that journalism is an easy class, it is not. For every issue produced, each person must write at least three articles. As a result of this demand, journalism students are always looking and listening for news.

A busy year

The student council at Moorhead High has had, once again, a full schedule of events throughout the year. Every Tuesday at odd and varying hours the council meets to exchange ideas and make decisions for upcoming events such as; School dances, Homecoming, activity weeks, career awareness programs, Candy-gram sales and distribution, Pop and candy sales at games, and open student meetings.

Out of school activities have included sending Stacy Horn, sending Stacy Horn, Michelle Regnier, and our fearless President Keith Jones to the annual State Student Council Convention. We hosted the Western Regional Convention of Student Councils. Support was provided for needy families during Thanksgiving and Christmas.

All council members take equal responsibility in carrying out their duties and it has been an enjoyable experience to work with them.

Key Clubbers serve to please

Key Club is a service organization for high school students. It operates under school regulations and draws its membership from the student body. Each club is sponsored by a local Kiwanis Club. Started during 1925 in Sacramento, California, Key Club has become the worlds largest organization of its kind with over 105,000 members and some 3,500 clubs.

This year the Moorhead High chapter of the Key Club has centered its projects around the international theme "Man-hours for Mankind". Each member of the club was asked to dedicate fifty hours of his or her own time to service within the school or community. Some of the projects that the club has been active in include square dancing with the handicapped, visiting the elderly, a bowl-a-thon fund raiser, and guide services within the school.

Experience is the key

The Office Educational Association works to improve office and business skills by allowing students to work and attend school at the same time. Seniors are allowed this privilege so that they may have work experience as they are plunged into the job market after high school.

Students must, along with the employer, sign a contract that specifically lays out the terms that must be observed by both parties. It is this contract which allows the student to work as a part of their high school education. They work in various office situations to gain experience in the working of a business office.

A successful season

Once again, under the watchful eye of Mr. Harlan Shuck, the Moorhead speech and debate team has had a successful season. A number of strong returning veterans of past years gave the team a healthy backbone with which to build on. Freshman response wasn't as good as in the past, which may hurt the team in years to come, but as a whole the individual records were excellent. Throughout the year many personal goals were surpassed in both speech and debate. Highlighting the season was the St. Olaf tournament in mid January. Moorhead walked off with most of the individual honors and first place overall as a team.

An uncertain future is in store for the speech and debate teams. Much of the teams strength will leave with the graduating class. But as always all members are optimistic.

EVENTS

Big win sets festive mood

This year's homecoming had the win that all schools hope for in their big game. Mr. Kostich's boys took control early, dominating the Cardinals throughout the game. Hard work carried us to a 21-12 victory.

Once again Coronation started the week, with Keith Jones crowned as king and Julie Wahl queen. The infamous burning of the "M" brought the evening to a close.

In the week that followed such events as color day, jello snarfing, and an egg toss took place. On the day of the game a strong wind threatened to put a damper on the fun. But as usual, Spud determination prevailed as the parade got underway.

The last hurrah of the homecoming of 1984 was a dance to the music of "Easy Street".

Young cast Enjoys work

The Importance of Being Ernest by Oscar Wilde kicked off the 1984-85 MHS drama season.

This classical comedy is a spoof on Victorian ideals which revolves around the lives of nine people in Victorian England. Two gentlemen, both assuming the name of Ernest, propose marriage to their girlfriends. Both girls accept.

As the story unfolds and tempers flair, the girls soon realize the neither of them is engaged to be married to anyone, because there is no one named Ernest. The cast included: senior Anne-marie Fagerland, juniors Natalie Dineson, Paula Jane Hines, Jay Kopita, Michelle Luehn, and Tony Solmon, Sophomores Darin Haugen, Robert Heuer, and Chris Moewes.

Sadie Hawkins

Sadies makes a return

After a one year change to Morp, Sadie Hawkins was once again back. Many couples reached into the closet and pulled out the old hillbilly clothing and decked themselves out. As in the past all the girls had chosen their dates for the evening in the tradition of Sadie Hawkins. Super Sound, a musical light show, provided entertainment for the evening. Even the old booths were back to entertain those between dances. Ward Cater was in attendance to marry all those wanting to be hitched while Dan Olson and Tony Hjelle maintained law and order in the Sadies jail.

Follies

The show must go on

Technical problems plagued the follies this year. Mistakes in performing order, problems with the sound equipment, and delays between acts all prevented the show from running smoothly. The show continued though, and Masters of ceremonies Tim Hulett and Paula Jane Hines kept the audience entertained.

As in past years, the acts were divided into five categories: Dance, Solo Vocals, Bands, Comedy and Instrumental. Each act was judged in its respective class by judges chosen from within the community. At the end of the performance it was these acts which emerged as victors: Master Crew, dance; Sony Thompson, solo vocals; The End, bands; John DeBoer, Jay Kopita, instrumentals.

ACADEMICS

Moorhead, excellence

Moorhead High School continues to offer an excellent academic program for students. This high school has long been known as a traditional school which has not veered far from the basic curriculum, the philosophy being that, change for the sake of change does not guarantee educational excellence. It can be observed, however, that each year some phase of the academic program has been reviewed and changes recommended. During the current year, this emphasis has focused on two areas: (1) programs for the gifted, (2) career education and information.

Additions have been made for high ability math, science, and social study students. Also, advanced placement tests are now being offered in the areas of advanced biology, social studies, and english.

For those planning to attend college, the career center is now expanded to help you in the area of career options and college choices. Two pro-rams used through the computer allow students to pull information on both state and national colleges.

During the past four years several members of the MHS staff have visited twelve Minnesota schools of similar size to Moorhead. In comparing the academic programs of these schools to that of Moorhead it is clear that our high school stands above the others tested. Moorhead High School is strong, with the achievements of the students well above the national average. I am truly proud to have been associated with Moorhead High School for these many years. It has been a great place to be.

A class to please all

American Literature and Novel, taught by Ken Tangen, were two of the most popular English courses at Moorhead High School. Tangen made his classes interesting and informative by challenging his students and promoting much classroom discussion.

Journalism was again a popular class. Vi Redlin and her staff produced a paper each three months.

Alfred Melting and his Pre-college Composition course prepared seniors for freshman English once again. Shouts telling students to spew forth could be heard reverberating through the hallways.

Important in all fields

Although math is not required every year, most students find it essential to their education. Math courses are valuable whether a student is college-bound or going straight into the business world. Most occupations require at least a working knowledge of mathematics.

MHS is fortunate in the fact that it has ten well trained teachers in this field. For those students planning to go on to college, trigonometry and pre-calculus are now offered. Due to the increase of the use of computers, students have found computer applications to be worthwhile. Next year a full calculus course is planned in addition to pre-calc.

Lab makes up Physics

A new addition to the science department this year is really making waves in the physics lab. Charleen Schwert has re-joined the staff here at MHS to fill the position vacated by Mr. Benson when he retired.

Taking the helm of the physics and pre-college math departments, Schwert has added new life to a notoriously laborious class. During the year she has displayed a wealth of knowledge in her chosen field of physics. Diverse lab investigations on subjects such as acceleration, heat, and waves have added variety along with practical experience in the topics studied.

Also within the science department, the arrival of the computer age has opened an added dimension in teaching. New software is helping the science student in areas such as calculations, the study of laws, and the actual lab process.

New materials and innovative ideas have helped make science classes an interest-venture.

Students study Election process

During the first semester, Mr. Vettleson's American Government class centered its studies on the Presidential Election. Students involved themselves by spending time in local campaign headquarters. Each student was required to work in favor of his or her party for at least four hours. Jobs such as distributing literature and calling voters occupied much of this time.

In other areas of the social studies department students were exploring the alternative for the future. Mr. Wienhold, with his futuristics class worked on problem solving and how to control your destiny.

Language proves to be fun

For all taking a Spanish course here at the high school fun has taken on a new meaning. Diverse activities and an instructor who is enthusiastic about the subject have contributed to the growth in popularity of these sections in the past years.

As in any language course, the material demands a certain amount of hard work and attention. Exercises in vocabulary, translation, and speaking all tested our proficiency in the language. In addition to the materials associated with the book, video tapes and Spanish games were used to expose the classes to new vocabulary. Spanish scrabble, a class favorite, encouraged the use of the vocabulary in hopes of making one comfortable with the new words.

The importance of a second language can be seen as one explores a different culture. It is an experience one will not soon forget.

Popular classes provide help

The business electives seem to be quite popular among students, although a credit in business is not required for graduation. Some of the business courses, such as recordkeeping or accounting, can be beneficial in the future- not only for business records but also for personal records. Typing skills are also a valuable asset in college or almost any career. Taking these classes could give a student a head start in a business career, however, they are also helpful even if one isn't going into a business career.

Fun makes for hard work

Since its introduction, Dan Kostich's weight training class has grown in popularity. With class enrollment averaging around thirty, the training room in the Sports Center has become an increasingly busy place. Every available weight is in use when a class occupies the small room.

Goal setting plays an important part in this class. Each student must lift seventy-five percent of his or her body weight in the bench press, with a one hundred fifty percent goal on the hip sled. Contrary to popular belief this is no easy task.

As in any class, you are tested for improvement throughout the year. Timed laps, sit-ups, and other endurance tests compose your grade. Hard work characterizes the time spent in this class. In all it has proven to be a very useful course.

A year of changes

The MHS bands worked very hard this year. The marching band had its first public appearance in the Valley Fest Parade. Under the leadership of drum major Kirsten Rowell the group added several new marching routines to their program. Over one hundred students participated as the sophomores were added to the roster. Even a new look was added with new uniforms being acquired this year.

Planning to attend the National Band festival in Kansas City, band members held fund raisers to support the trip. A car wash was held along with several sales.

Along with the regular schedule many students were selected as members of the jazz band. This extra band explore american jazz music.

Siggerud adds Diversity

Joining the staff in the Music Department this year, Mike Siggerud has taken control of the choral sections. A strong influence in that he, himself, is an accomplished vocalist, Siggerud sets high goals for our choirs.

Each group was exposed to a variety of styles in hopes of developing various vocal techniques. Siggerud felt that a great deal has been accomplished in this area. He attributed this to the good participation of all the students involved. He is looking for strength in coming years because of an abundance of strong under-class voices.

The end of a Legacy

Mr. Vincent Pulicicchio's last year as orchestra director was, fittingly, one of the best. With an extremely talented concert orchestra group led by senior Joan Gjevre and junior Charles Li, the orchestra performed in three concerts and regional competition in which Moorhead earned the highest position of distinction.

Next year, the group promises to be just as talented. Everyone will miss Pulicicchio, and wish him the best of luck in the future.

Additions to Home Ec

An exciting new class was being offered in the Home Economics department this year. A need for a more advanced cooking and craft course led to the birth of the Gourmet Foods and Creative Stitchery class. The main area of study within this section allow students the opportunity to explore new types of stitchery and the world of foreign or gourmet foods.

Beautiful projects accomplished with skill gave members of the section a sense of satisfaction. Many types of stitchery were introduced including machine applique, counted cross stitch, candlewicking, and crewel.

In the foods part of the class foreign dishes were examined in hopes of exposing the students to a multitude of cultures.

The auto shop has proven to be a busy place throughout the year. Starting off the year with basic principles of how engines work, Darvin Miller soon had his classes crawling around in an assortment of vehicles. The first major area of study included the techniques used in a good tune up. An addition to the class this year, the Sun Tune-up Analyzer, gave the students insight into the new field of computerized car care. All aspects of the automobile were looked at, in hopes of exposing the student to as much of the field of auto mechanics as possible. Transmissions, brakes, the cooling system, suspension, and the drive train all became major topics during the year. As a whole auto shop proved itself to be a valuable course.

March proclaimed Art Month

The job of introducing visual composition to all Moorhead art students rested on the shoulders of Geri Thurn. Areas of study included acrylic painting, watercolor painting, sculpture, and ceramics. Each form of expression was looked at in hopes of developing a talent for each.

Throughout the year a variety of student art adorned the hallways throughout the school. Some fine examples of Thurn's influence and guidance could be found in the displays on the first floor.

March proved to be a big month for the art program. This time of the year was proclaimed youth art month. The commons became a gallery of various art forms. The best of the year found its way into the display.

Ready for the job market

The Clay County Vocational Cooperative Center offers four classes at the Washington Annex- Health Occupations, Fashion and Textiles, Graphic Arts, and Auto Mechanics.

During the spring of each year the students are placed in an actual work situation. Within the week they are subjected to the rigors of a normal workday. Throughout the year the students attended various conventions and workshops which informed the students about careers in the fields they've chosen. The fashion and textiles classes sponsored fashion shows to draw attention to their products and the latest fashions.

A place of meeting

Generally the school library is thought of as a place of study. Pictures of "QUIET" signs and hissing librarians come to mind. Here at Moorhead High it should be noted that the library serves another purpose. This humble area now rivals the commons as social headquarters of the school.

Each morning groups of students gather in all parts of the library to go over the latest news in each others lives. Quiet gossip can be heard coming from most tables. Although the purpose is not as noble as the original it does serve as an important part of a students daily schedule.

Preparation is main goal

When thinking of the Special Education Department one thinks of kids playing and having everything done for them. This, however, is incorrect. The afternoons of the TMH (Trainable Mentally Handicapped) consist of reading, math, arts and crafts, an adapted Phy Ed class, and a cooking class. Students over age sixteen spend their mornings at the Washington Annex for vocational training.

TAHC (Teen Age Health Consultants) is students who give advice and support to other students. They also refer students to people who are qualified to help them. TAHC students are taught how to listen and how not to be judgmental and to accept people for what they are.

As another year draws to a close I find it fitting to reflect upon the time spent here at Moorhead High School. For most of the graduating class of 1985 a journey of four years comes to an end. An end, which for many, marks the beginning of a new life rich in adventure and success. Each of us will now go our separate way in search of that place in society to which we belong. If left behind, the memories we now hold would soon wither and die. It is my hope that this annual will serve as a reminder to those days when we were young so as to let them live on in our minds.
